A Passenger Leaving Seat On Street Car Does So at

(Special to The Times-Dispatch ) NORFOLK, VA., January 12.-A two-masted schooner, which it is pretty certain is the Samuel Russell, is drifting about in the channel of Chesapeake Bay below the Middle Ground, with her stern washed away or torn away in collision. There are no signs of life aboard and her master and four seamen are believed to have been washed overboard and drowned. The Joseph M. Clark and Company's tug Reliance went out to the scene to tow the abandoned vessel to this port. News of the situation aboard this port. News of the situation aboard the vesset was telephoned to-day to Captain Clark by the master of the Reliance, who came in to communicate with its owners and afterward returned to the wreck, The Russell sailed for Baltimore from Norfolk with a cargo of lumber in tow of the tug Volunteer.

COWS PERISH IN FIRE.

A large barn on the premises of the Orange Grove Dairy, owned by T. E. Brickhouse, at the corner of Corprew and Excelsior Avenues, in Norfolk county, was destroyed by fire last night, twen. ty-two cows and two calves being roasted to death in the flames. The blaze started at 11 o'clock. Mr. Brickhouse, was notified and reached the scene at midnight.

The blaze made rapid headway and consumed the building and its contents. Beside the barn and the cows, a new wagon, a carload of peanut hulls and a quantity of hay and fodder were destroyed. The windmill on the premises was partially damaged by fire.

AT OWN PERIL.

The decision given by Judge W. B. Martin in the $10,000 damage suit of Rufus R. Slater against the Berkley Street Rallway, when the court set aside the jury verdict of $2,500 given in the plaintiff's verdict of $2,500 given in the plaintiff's way, when the court set aside the jury verdict of $2,500 given in the plaintiff's verdict of $2,500 given in the plaintiff's favor, is important to all patrons of street cars, many of whom leave their seats in the cars and stand on the rear platforms.

The court held that when a passenger of a car leaves his seat while the car is moving rapidly, yet safely, he does so at his own risk, and cannot recover for intuities received as a result providing his own risk, and cannot recover for in-juries received as a result, providing there is no negligence shown on the part of the street car company. In the Salter case the evidence showed that the plain-tiff went to the rear platform of the car while the car was rapidly approaching the sharp curve at the Campostella bridge. The car, which was involugifast, was carried safely around by the motor-man, but Salter was thrown off and in-jured.

Attorney W. H. Venable, of the Berk-Attorney W. H. Venable, of the Berk-ley Street Rallway, in asking that the jury verdict given in Salter's favor be set aside, declared that the plaintiff had not proved the negligence charged in his declaration, and further that the plaintiff had been guilty of contributory negli-gence. The court upheld both pleas, and get the verdict aside.

Mr. James G. Leake, a noted litigant, who was fined by the Mayor last November for assaulting Judge N. E. Smith, and also for carrying concealed weapons, and who appealed to the Circuit Court, afforded the spectators much amusement Monday afternoon by pleading his own cause. But, notwithstanding his eloquence, the jury confirmed the judgment of the Mayor and fined Mr. Leake $50 for the assault and $20 for toting a pistol.

Another case of general interest was the case of the town of Martinsville vs. Thomas, a solicitor of orders for the Stieff. Plano Company, of Baltimore, which has warerooms in Lynchburg and other places.

BUT FOR CUTICURA.

"My little son, when about a year and a half old, began to have sores come out on his face. I had a physician treathim, but the sores grew worse. Then they began to come on his arms, then on other parts of his body, and then one came on his chest, worse than the others. Then I called another physician. Still he grew worse. At the end of about a year and a half of suffering he grew so bad I had to tie his hands in cloths at night to keep him from scratching thesers and tearing the flesh.

"He got to be a mere skeleton, and was hardly able to walk. My Aunt advised mo to try Cuticura Soap and Ointment. So great was her faith in it that she gave me a small piece of Soap to try and a little of the Ointment. I took it home without any faith, but to please her I tried it, and it seemed to dry up the sores a little.

"I sent to the drug store and got a cake of the Soap and a box of the Ointment and followed the directions, and at the end of about two months the sores were all well. He has never had any sores of any kind since. "He is now strong and healthy, and I can sincerely say that only for your most wonderful remedies my precious child would have died from those terrible sores. I used only one cake of Soap and about three boxes of Ointment. (signed) Mrs. Egbert Sheldon, R. F. D., No. 1, Woodville, Conn, April 22, 1905."

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

LURAY, VA., January 12-Information has just been received here of the murder of Isaac Nichols by his brother, Elsey Nichols, in Madison county.

The tragedy occurred near the Pinnacle,
on the line between Page and Madison.

The crime was committed with a pocket
knife, Isaac being stabbed twice, once
about the heart and once in that organ, causing instant death.

The trouble arose over a trifling matter, though the men are said to have had a difficulty several weeks before. After the stabbing the man who committed the crime made no effort to escape, and sent word to the Madison officials to come after him, and he has been lodged in jail at Madison Courthouse.

The scene of the murder is about eight miles east of Luray, and is in one of the wilder portlors of the Rur Recent after him, and he has been lodged in jail at Madison Courthouse.
